Taiso Watanabe, a Japanese 27 year old, was taken to the Queen's Hospital yesterday suffering from burns received while he was engaged in clearing off some land. He was burning off rubbish and guava bushes when the fire became beyond control, and in his endeavor to stop it, his clothing caught fire. His hair was burned away and his body presented a terrible sight, the burns covering nearly all the flesh. He may not live.

With the view to beautifying the grounds of the new Library of Hawaii, the Outdoor Circle of the Kilohana Art League has been making a study of the situation in regard to the planting of lawns, shrubbery, and trees. Mrs. A. Lewis Jr. recommended that the iron fence and stone wall on the Kilohana street side of the capitol grounds be removed, thereby bringing the Library grounds into the area of the public buildings already constructed.

In company with Mr. Burros, manager of the local Federal Telegraph company, Acting British Consul Harrington took a trip to Heela yesterday, where he had a practical lesson in wireless telegraphy and talked through the air with Carnegie Ross, British consul general of San Francisco. Mr. Harrington is greatly enthused over the opening of the new day wireless, and expects that great things will be accomplished under the new Poulsen system.

Spanish immigrants who leave the Hawaiian Islands for California, where they expect to find plenty of easy work and money, do not meet with the great success they expect to on their arrival. It has been stated by the Spanish consul at San Francisco that many of the Spaniards who have left Hawaii for California are desirous of returning to the Islands. The situation for them in California is not as bright as it is painted. Two Spaniards only have left Hawaii for the coast within the last two months.

ANGRY PAPA CAUSES BUMPS ON THE COURSE OF GIRL'S TRUE LOVE

ents on the shores of Honolulu. To them she broached the subject of her desire to marry the man of her choice. Her mother evidently favored the match but Father refused to listen to it, as he said he had already picked out a husband for the girl, a man about fifty years old.

The girl was brought to Honolulu last week by her mother, and again met the man of her choice, this time at the home of her aunt. On Monday, the girl's parent entered the scene, and demanded of the girl that she stay away entirely from her lover, and then calling upon a few friends to help him, he took her to the hotel, and later put her aboard the steamer bound for her home in Japan.

The young Japanese boy, whose parents had recently died here, was returning to Honolulu to claim the estate. On the steamer he made the acquaintance of Ordru, which resulted in a case of love at first sight. All went well until the girl met her par-

When the wireless operators stationed in the Oceanic liner Sonoma that arrived at Honolulu on October 23 caught from the air a message from the Allison Navigation steamer Wilhelmina telling of much loss of deck cargo because of heavy seas, which for hours surged over the deep laden vessel. Captain Peter Johnson is alleged to have got exceedingly wroth.

Through the circulation of the story it was learned that over one hundred tons sand and salt had been washed overboard as well as some seventy five feet of rail. It is alleged that one or more wireless operators in the Wilhelmina have been let out, and that new men, who are believed to be secretaries, have been sub-

In defense of the men who are claimed to have incurred the displeasure of the veteran skipper in the Wilhelmina it is claimed that both the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria as well as the Oceanic Sonoma were in more or less constant touch with the Wilhelmina, then laboring through treacherous seas.

Whether a general shake up among wireless operators will follow is yet a matter of conjecture, though two new men in charge of the wireless office in the Ludlum arrived at the port last night in that vessel.
